DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-61 and 68-76, drawn to compounds according to formulae (I), (II), or (III).

Group II, claim(s) 62-67 and 68-76, drawn to methods for treating diseases using compounds of formulae (I), (II), or (III).

Group III, claim(s) 68-76, drawn to methods using compounds of formulae (I), (II), or (III) for the manufacture of therapeutic agents.

Claims 68-76 are use claims and can be reasonably interpreted as being drawn to (i) compounds according to formulae (I), (II), or (III); (ii) methods using compounds of formulae (I), (II), or (III) for treating diseases; or (iii) methods using compounds of formulae (I), (II), or (III) for the manufacture of therapeutic agents. Accordingly, Claims 68-76 have been placed in each of the above defined groups.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The special technical feature of Group I is compounds according to formulae (I), (II), or (III). The special technical feature of Group II is methods for treating diseases using compounds of formulae (I), (II), or (III). The special technical feature of Group II is methods using compounds of formulae (I), (II), or (III) for the manufacture of therapeutic agents. Thus, there is no general inventive concept.

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

- (a) compounds according to formulae (I), (II), or (III);
- (b) diseases treatable by compounds according to formulae (I), (II), or (III).

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single compound, including identification of the defining formula(s) and the values of all formula substituent variables; and a single, specific disease, to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species (i.e., identify the claims readable on specie (a) and identify the claims readable on specie (b)), including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Election of species not specifically disclosed as filed may be considered new matter.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

4. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

All claims require species elections

The following claim(s) are generic: All claims are generic.

5. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The compounds defined by the formulae recited in the claims are diverse in both the core and peripheral structures and thus lack a single general inventive concept. Further, the structure variability would clearly affect receptor binding and other pharmacological characteristics of the compounds and thus, their effectiveness in the therapeutics instantly claimed. Methods are claimed to treatment for neutrophilic inflammatory diseases as well as diseases related to hyperfunction of GPR4 and thus lack a single general inventive concept.

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

7. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
